

Quick Facts

- Offers online access to business-related journals, magazines, newspapers, newsletters, wire services, trade publications and more
- Ideal for managers, consultants, students, job seekers and more
- Provides authoritative information on news, issues and developments in the business world
- Covers a broad range of industries and topics
- Cross-searchable with Access U.K. and Ireland Newspapers and Access World News

A unique resource for business news and information

Business U.K. offers researchers and professionals convenient online access to a wide range of news sources that span the business world. Including journals, magazines, newspapers, newsletters, wire services, trade publications and more, this collection is ideal for anyone who needs authoritative information on business-related news, issues and developments.

Track industry trends across the U.K. and the world

Business U.K. provides opinions, analysis and corporate profiles across a broad range of industries, including banking and finance, information technology, insurance, marketing, retail, engineering, hospitality, labour and more. Patrons can search or browse full-text articles that address local and regional business as well as global issues and trends. With Business U.K., users can track information geographically and chronologically, compare sales, figures and profits, and stay up-to-date on important industry news.

In-depth coverage

An invaluable resource for managers, consultants, students, job seekers and other researchers, Business U.K. provides information on investing, branding, advertising, production, policies, equipment, government, strategies and more—including in-depth information on local, national and international businesses. From up-to-the-minute news of mergers and acquisitions to facts on interest rates and shareholders, Business U.K. covers the information that businesses and individuals require to be successful in an ever-changing market.

Cross-searchable with other NewsBank resources

Business U.K. can be searched by itself or in conjunction with Access U.K. and Ireland Newspapers and Access World News via a single, intuitive interface. Together, these resources offer unparalleled depth and breadth for a wide variety of research. Additionally, map-based searching, customisable result sorting and NewsBank's powerful search engine ensure fast, accurate results from the most comprehensive news resources in existence.

For more information, contact a NewsBank representative by calling 0800 028 5310 or emailing sales@newsbank.com.